We have endeavored to continue the work in the grades without much variation. The new state program has compelled us to look toward the future and prepare for the new high school program coming next year. This will not affect those schools where they prepare for Bellows Falls high school.

At North Walpole and perhaps Drewsville the traditional courses will be followed until there seems to be a change demanded by the state program of Vermont.

The changes will not be so sweeping or radical as they seemed at first. The more we endeavor to conform to new conditions the easier it seems. It is, at least, fitted to the developing child in the critical periods of his development. The pupils in the outside rural schools in grades seven and eight should attend Walpole Village school, if they are to enter a New Hampshire high school. In the village, arithmetic will be completed and practical application and transition made with algebra and concrete geometry. The elements of science will be a part of the pupils' experience, or the reason for things which they see around them. Some work in nature study or elementary agriculture will be given the boys. Manual training, sewing, and cooking will be continued as at present. As soon as the adjustment can be made to this plan, based upon modern educational ideals, we shall be better able to meet the demands of the times, and perhaps save a year or two in the school life of the child.

The work of the high school continues with the same curricula as last year. The classical leading toward college preparation in arts courses for both boys and girls. The second, exclusively for girls, in domestic arts, while fitting for science courses in college and normal school, yet has preparation for life as the main aim. The third is for boys, and, while not neglecting the cultural, is primarily industrial along agricultural lines. It fits for college in science courses and as in the second curriculums primarily for broader living.

The pupils graduating from the classical curriculum are in college and without conditions at the present time, and some of them leading their classes. We are now on trial in the New England College Entrance Board. The excellent record of our pupils will, without doubt, place us in full standing for next year. The pupils finishing in the domestic arts courses last year have all entered higher institutions.

While few pupils have graduated from the agricultural courses heretofore, yet at present the prospects are good to have some of the boys graduating for the industrial course at the end of each year. There are now three in the present senior class.

To meet the requirements of the state it is necessary for us to do practical work in agriculture. The new building has enabled us to conform to the directions of the state department, and we have been able, by studying conditions and adapting ourselves to the community, to become one of the first schools among thirty doing this work in the state. This is the first year that courses in Animal Husbandry have been given. It has seemed unusual to study hens, make butter, and build a hen house, but people generally believe in doing things where possible, rather than reading about them. The industrial work has been self supporting and with the assets now on hand has been made to yield a profit. Mr. Skinner will report in full in regard to the industrial account.

In the domestic arts courses there have been some changes in the kind of work taken up in the grades. Knitting has been introduced in grades five and six. Cooking under pressure and in the fireless process have been introduced. The course in home nursing has been made stronger by having the district nurse, Miss Fisk, do those things which are strictly technical. The extension work among the ladies of the town has been continued. The attendance at these evening classes has been good, but large numbers should take advantage of this opportunity to exchange ideas in the household arts.

The manual training has been about the same as last year.

It should be more fully developed in the high school as soon as time and conditions will allow.

We are grateful to those who have aided us financially during the year. Friends of the school at Walpole have given us about nine hundred dollars toward the new building, for prizes and children's lunches; the new building is now in use, the prizes were given at the close of last year in domestic arts and manual training, and the lunches are being served now to the children who come in barges, in grades one—four. Books and equipment were received from other sources. Walpole is fortunate in having so many people interested in the welfare of her schools.

The district nurse, through the kindness of the committee in charge, has examined the children in Walpole for physical defects. We ask the cooperation of parents in making the work effective. Where there are evidences of physical troubles we ask you to consult a physician or a dentist. The relation of the health of the child to his success in school is very close. If your child is being held back by the conditions of his health we should act together in correcting conditions.

We have no innovations in mind for next year in educational development beyond the continuation and gradual development of the work already started. We have been bothered in heating the large building in Walpole village. This belongs to the province of the school board, and we trust that some solution will be made. The pupils now attending and residing in the Cold River section of Walpole would be given greater opportunities, if they were brought into the village. If the parents in that section would manifest a desire, I believe some arrangement could be made to transport them with the high school children into the village school.

We hope for your cooperation in maintaining the present standard of our schools. Even in these trying times we should not lose interest in those who are to become citizens of Walpole and the nation.

F. D. RODENBUSH,
Auditor.

Walpole, February, 16, 1918.

During the past year 202 volumes have been added to the library, 44 by gift and the balance by purchase by the committee from funds available.

The following is a list of doners to whom the committee in behalf of the town wish to extend thanks:

Mr. E. J. Best,	1
Mrs. H. E. Bridge,	27
Mrs. Stowe Benedict,	1
Mrs. Mary K. Butterfield,	2
Misses Canfield,	1
Mr. Wm. A. Cheney,	1

Mrs. Alexander Davidson,	3
Mrs. Alice C. Gilbert,	2
Mrs. Lorraine H. Jones,	3
M. G. Overlock, M. D.,	1
Miss Helen Wotkyns,	1

The committee can report no new bequests to the library, though during the past year the funds from the T. B. Peek and Caroline L. Davis bequests have become available.

Owing to the scarcity of coal the library has only been open two afternoons and evenings a week instead of three and no attempt was made to heat the stack room, but with the coming of warm weather the library will be open as usual.

Notwithstanding the severe winter and wood the only obtainable fuel the reading room was kept warm and was well patronized, the records showing an increase of approximately $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent in the number of books taken out over the preceeding year.

The committee recommended that the usual appropriation of $600.00 be continued.

With the cooperation of the school board we have endeavored to maintain the schools with efficient teachers. In general, we have followed the new state program of studies in all of the schools with the exception of North Walpole, where the old program seems to prepare better for the schools of Vermont. The new state program differs slightly from the old in the work of the first six grades. The fundamentals are emphasized in these grades and we are now able to cover the essentials at the end of the first six years. The work of the junior high school, or grades seven and eight, differs quite radically from the traditional work of these grades. We began the work with some doubts and have been watching it carefully during the year. We have become convinced that we can save at least a year in preparation for high school, and that the work is fitted to the needs of a child in this period of his development. Drill is minimized, experience is emphasized, and the fundamentals are fixed by use in correlation with other subjects. The results are such that it seems best to complete the plan and secure approval on this part of the work. It will then become a part of the regular high school and be taught by the same teachers working departmentally.

The approval of the industrial work of the high school by the federal government for financial aid under the Smith-Hughes bill must be considered during the coming year. If the amount received will approach the added expense it would seem advisable to take the steps needed to comply with the federal requirements. The scarcity of teachers of industrial subjects is a problem at this time and may seriously affect the work in these lines.

During the past year we have endeavored to solve the problems as we have met them. The teachers have been advised when advice seemed to be needed. Text books have been adjusted to the needs of the pupils and the new course of study. A few books have been added to the working libraries of the schools to broaden the scope of the work, and supply material for the development of the teachers. The work in agriculture introduced into the grades seems to have taken a firm hold upon the boys and, through the garden work of the summer, a new movement has started growing out of the demands of the times, although in many cases the work was only a beginning. Through the state food conservation committee we were enabled to have a supervisor during the summer and include the pupils of North Walpole in the garden work. Many of the older people were given assistance, when it was asked. The estimated value of the produce raised by the school children of the town is about eighteen hundred dollars.

Nearly all of the graduates of our high school entered higher institutions of learning this year. We are holding our approval on the College Entrance Board and the standing is good among the schools of the state. In the present world crisis we hear much of restricting educational activities. Those who have charge of educational matters in this country advise us not to make the mistakes of our allies in Europe, but, in spite of increased burdens, do all we can to maintain our schools in keeping with the growing demands of the times, and the still greater ones of peace after the war. We must secure good teachers. This will be difficult, owing to the call for teachers to enter other occupations at larger salaries. All the running expenses of the school must increase. With a very dreary outlook, we plan for the future. Our plans must be somewhat indefinite at present because of changing conditions, but whatever these conditions are we must meet them in such a way as to protect the men and women of tomorrow.

We expect to use the schools to reach the homes and bring to them the calls of the state and nation for aid, if it is needed, and to spread the information which the different departments of the government bring to our attention. Conservation and production will both have a place in the instruction in the schools. We wish to teach habits of thrift in connection with saving and production. North Walpole has been very successful in the school savings instituted by the Keene National Bank. We hope that the new plans for raising money for the aid of the nation may appeal to the pupils in a similar way. Each pupil should have a garden this year. He should raise those vegetables which have food value and can be stored for winter use. We hope for the cooperation of the school and the home in this matter. We expect the teachers to do more this spring in supervising this out door work and planning in the school room a campaign for the growing season. We expect a profitable remuneration for the labor expended, but the educational value alone is worthy of our best efforts.

Another problem must be solved at the annual school meeting. The change in the time for closing the school year has lengthened the period for which money is to be provided. The funds raised at the next meeting are, according to law, to be used for the school year beginning Sept. 1st, 1918, and ending Aug. 31, 1919. If the balance is not large enough to finish the present year, there should be an appropriation for the remainder of this school year in addition to the regular appropriation. It looks as though the funds might be raised on the notes of the town or district and lighten the burden of tax for next year. The financial report here given by the school board shows the condition of our finances on the first day of February just passed that you may provide for the future intelligently. The books must be kept open, however, until Sept. 1st, 1918, and the report then made to the state will be that printed in the next annual report. This report next year will contain two appropriations and the expenditures from Feb. 15, 1917, to Sept. 1, 1918. There will be another school meeting in the spring of 1919, when another appropriation may be made before Sept. 1st, but it will only continue the deficiency from year to year, providing there is not an accumulating balance sufficient to meet the need.

We wish to thank the citizens of Walpole for their cooperation in the work of the schools. The teachers have done much to make the work efficient and deserve your support and encouragement. We have been unfortunate in losing our two men teachers at Walpole, but we hope to continue the work without serious loss. We have appreciated the support which the school board and the teachers have given us. We hope that we have been able to aid them, and that all of us working together may be able to make the schools of Walpole meet the needs of the times and develop each year to keep pace with changing educational ideals.

All music funds in my hands have been turned over to the piano fund started at Walpole. With these funds and the efforts of the pupils we hope to have a fifty dollar liberty bond to add to this fund.

The agricultural department has no report at this time. All funds in the hands of Mr. Skinner are turned into the treasury with the money received from the sale of manual training materials.

E. J. BEST,
Superintendent
